Meridex Acquires Calgoo Software

Purchase provides synergistic opportunities consistent with Meridex’s strategic direction

Vancouver, B.C. – February 25, 2009 – Meridex Software Corporation (“Meridex” or the “Company”) (TSX-V:MSC) announced today its completion of the acquisition of the Calgoo Software division of Time Search Inc., a privately-owned provider of in-calendar marketing solutions, for consideration of $175,000 paid in common shares of Meridex Software (MSC-V). The shares will be subject to a 4 month hold period expiring June 23, 2009 and the transaction is subject to TSX approval.

“I am pleased with our latest acquisition,” said Darren Nicholls, President and CEO, Meridex Software Corporation. “By utilizing the synergies of these two exciting lines of business we are now in a very strong position to bring in additional funding, and create great results for our shareholders. We have assembled a team of the best people in their respective fields. With expertise in software, emergency management for schools and calendar inter-operability, we have all the key components to succeed in the rapidly changing and fast growing software-as-a-service market.”

Over the past year, the Company has been restructured, improving operational efficiencies, implementing industry best practices, and achieving key milestones in new software development. “With much of this clean up behind us, low overhead costs, and a pure focus on high margin software sales we are now able to focus on growing the business,” said Darren Nicholls. “In a software industry that is always changing and an economy in question, this acquisition will help enable Meridex to enter a new chapter of growth and shareholder value.”
